Ruth Ladd Succumbs to Burns-Funeral of Michael J. Riordan-Mr. and Mrs. James Ward to Sail for Scotland-Other local Notes,

As the result of the burns sustained when her clothing was accidentally set on fire Thursday noon, Ruth, 3 1-2 year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Ladd, died at her home, 422 Central avenue, Friday about 12 o'clock noon. The child was playing about Thursday and taking a match from a table in the house she ran out into the yard. A few moments afterwards her clothing was blazing and although the flames were quickly smothered by Mr. Ladd, who was near at the time, the child was badly burned. Everything possible for her comfort was done, but she rapidly grew worse, death ending her suffering. She was born in Norwich three years ago last February. Pesides her parents she leaves four, sisters and one brother. Henrietta, Sadie, Mary, Henry and Dorothy Ladd, all of Norwich. She was of an unusually bright nature and was a favorite with her playwaster. As the result of the burns sustained of an unusually bright nature and was a favorite with her playmates. The family have the heartfelt sympathy of all, in their bereavement.

Death of Former Mayor Wm. P. Greene in 1864 - First National Bank Increases its Capital—Salem Young Man Dies from Effects of Belle Island Prison Life.

The following are extracts from the Bulletin of June 1864:—
June 20, 1864.—Among the casualties in the Eighth Connecticut in the late fight near Petersburg, is John A. Beckwith, son of Mr. Elisha Beckwith of this city, reported wounded in the foot.

Death of William P. Greene. Our town and city are called again to mourn the loss of one of their most honored and respected citizens, Hon. W. P. Greene died at his residence on Washington street, Saturday morning June 17th at the age of 69 years. He graduated from Harvard university, in 1814. His father having invested considerable money in manufacturing at the Falls and Greeneville, Mr. Greene came to this place in 1825. The village of Greeneville grew up around the of Greeneville grew up around the place of business and took its name from Mr. Greene whose enterprise its growth was in a great measure due. Mr. Greene was for several times elect-ed mayor of this city, and for almost 40 years has been indentified with what-ever concerned the best intereests and prosperity of the city and town.

At a special meeting of the court of common council of the city of Norwich, held Saturday evening, resolutions were drawn up concerning the death of former Mayor William P. Greene.

JUNE CONFERENCE

OF THE SIX CHURCHES Held with Newent Church-Program

of Much Interest Carried Out, The June conference of the six churhes of Griswold, Hanover, Jewett City, Lisbon, and Plainfield, was held with the Newent church in Lisbon Wednesday.

The morning session opened at 11 o'clock with a devotional service led by the Rev. F. S. Child, of Griswold. Morning Sermon.

of the future. The prayer of Habak-kuk for a revival of God's work in the midst of the years is a prayer that was answered. This was a recognition of God's power and faith of His people. The work of the Lord is being revived. The greatest of all the prophets took his stand with the prophets of life. In this land we see the houses builded for God's worship There is reason perhaps that they do not contain as many worshippers as formerly. It is given as a reason beformerly. It is given as a reason be-cause there are not more entertaining things, as if our fathers used to come to be entertained. But we realize that w have need to meet together and worship. Our prayer which goes up in the midst of the years is to revive thy work that the knowledge of the glory of God may cover the land.

We have the promise of the prophet that makes us glad. We find the gospel story never grows old. When Jesus pel story never grows old. When Jesus told Peter to let down the net he said, "Lord, we have toiled all night and have taken nothing." It seemed to him reason enough for a good excuse. Peter stated his case, but had faith and said, "at thy word I will let down the net." It is easy to make an excuse but we need the faith to say nevertheless at Thy word I will. The disciples enclosed a multitude of fishnevertheless at Thy word I will. The disciples enclosed a multitude of fishes. Peter saw himself in the eyes of God and from that day was a better man. It was not Peter, but God, who did the work. For the Lord to work through us is a wonderful, blessed thing. Peter was sent back to feed the sheep. Today the message comes whether at his command we will. To Abraham and others came the call to Abraham and others came the call to stake all on the opportunity to do His will. It comes to us today Christ made the greatest venture of history when He entrusted the work in the hands of a few men. He calls upon us today to venture into the depths of faith. The souls and lives which need His touch lie about us. At His word will we go.

After a hymn was sung the conference adjourned until two o'clock. A collation was served to the conference such as only is possible by the ladies of this church. After a social hour the conference met for the afhour the conference met for the afternoon session. Afternoon Session,

A hymn was sung and prayer of-fered by the Rev. M. J. B. Fuller of Hanover. The report of the last meeting was read.

The first topic of the afternoon was The Social, Moral and Spiritual Values of the Christian Endeavor. The pastor himself touched briefly

The pastor himself touched briefly upon the social value saying that the social nature is important and we should provide the social nature satisfaction in the Christian church. red. Mrs. Annie Johnson of Plainfield and Mrs. Luther Keneston of Plainfield and Mrs. Luther Keneston of Preston discussed the Moral Value. Mrs. Johnson said: The moral value of any relationship depends upon the degree of influence exerted. The influence of the Christian Endeavor must be of a reflex nature. The great aim of the Chris-tian Endeavor is to develop the spirtual faculties and apply them to daily life. This brings about a clearer vision of the rights and creates a sense of

The spiritual value of the Christian Endeavor is beyond computation, she said. It is to fit young people for larger spiritual labor. The Christian Endeavor society has met a long felt need. It seems to round out the young Christian's life. We must let them feel it is theirs, but it should not take the place of the church for anyone. The society is built up on the idea that there is a part in the prayer meeting for all. The pledge is the backbone of the prayer meeting.

In the last 30 years the emphasis has been withdrawn from the eide of the conscience and placed upon the side of the heart. Much has been said about the fatherhood of God; but it has been done in such a way as to obscure the affirmation of conscience in such a fashion as to condone sin God loves fashion as to condone sin. God loves fashion as to condone sin. God loves the sinner even though he blames him. We can do nothing worse for a man than to relieve his guilty conscience and abate his sense fo responsibility for his sin. It is the business of the church not to do every good work in its organized capacity but to create and develop the men and women who shall do good works. Primarily religion is do good works. Primarily religion is individual, personal, but this one life in all believers is the inspiring force in all organization. The one decline in the church is family religion. The home is the fundamental religious educational institution. If there is one failure greater than all others in society it is the failure of the family to bring up its children. We are doing many things communitywise and at great expense v would never need to be done if
